

Total Ecology
Environmental Policy

Total Ecology offer a full range of ecological services to both public and private sector clients throughout the UK. Total Ecology specialises in the ecological aspects of UK planning applications and have worked with a wide range of clients from individual homeowners to large multi-national corporations such as BHP Billiton Plc, Fountains Plc, and Interserve Plc amongst others.

Total Ecology carry out full initial ecological scoping surveys to Extended Phase 1 guidelines; vegetation surveys including NVC; protected species surveys including bats, great crested newts, badgers, water vole and otters; bird surveys including breeding and wintering bird surveys; and specialist surveys. Total Ecology are experienced in BREEAM and Code for Sustainable Homes Assessments and Environmental Stewardship applications, and are able to complete the entire application process.

Total Ecology appreciates that its activities and services impact the environment. We will endeavour to improve environmental performance by setting environmental objectives and targets in line with the following commitments:

- Assess the environmental impact of our operations.
- Raise environmental awareness within the company through training and toolbox talks
- Encourage and facilitate staff engagement.
- Comply with all relevant environmental legislation and other requirements.
- Prevent pollution to air, water and land.
- Encourage sustainable consumption associated with our activities to minimise unnecessary waste of electricity, fuel and materials.
- Strive to continually improve our environmental performance through monitoring and measuring of our environmental impacts.

This document is communicated to all employees and relevant parties and is made available to the public via the company website. It shall be the responsibility of all employees at Total Ecology to ensure that they work in line with this policy.
